

DOCTORS CLASH AT THE BEDSIDE OF CLEVELAND

Regular Physicians of the Former President Have a Dispute As To Who Is In Authority and Dr. Banks Is Summoned.

MRS. CLEVELAND HURRIES
BACK TO PRINCETON.

Head Nurse Has Left Westlands, and Callers
Are Assured the Patient Is Much Improved—Conflicting Stories About Exercise on Horseback.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 21.—As a result of dispute between the physicians, former President Grover Cleveland, who is believed to be in a serious condition at his home, Westlands, near here, has been put in the hands of a new specialist, Dr. Banks, of New York and Larchmont. Dr. Banks, who had been hurriedly summoned, reached here this forenoon. On the same train with him came Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrine Folsom, accompanied by a maid. All three were rapidly driven from the station in a closed carriage to the Cleveland place.

Dr. Carnahan and Dr. Bryant, who have been attending Mr. Cleveland, are said to have departed as to who was to have charge of the patient. It is said that both decided to retire, uniting in a request to the family of their discharged patient that another physician be retained. Both of them returned today to make any statements.

Head Nurse Leaves.
The head nurse also left yesterday. Her departure created some surprise, as she had stated no longer than ten days before that she would be here at least for a month, adding that Mr. Cleveland could not possibly recover under that time and that she would have to have extraordinary careful attention to be sure of getting up and about in a month.

She packed up and went yesterday afternoon. It is reported that she quarreled with Dr. Carnahan, Mr. Cleveland's Princeton physician, regarding the invalid's diet.

Callers at Westlands to-day were met at the door by a nurse. She merely said Mr. Cleveland was "doing very well" and refused all other information regarding the former President's condition.

Story of Horseback Ride.
Later it was announced on behalf of the family that Mr. Cleveland had been out riding this morning for an hour.

At Philadelphia (AL)—St. Louis 0; Philadelphia 6.
At Washington (AL)—End 14th; Chicago 1; Wash., 3.
At St. Louis (NL)—End first; Philadelphia 0; St. Louis 0.

CHIEF HAYES WINS SEVENTH GRAVESSEND.
Seventh—Chief Hayes 13-1. Golden Shore 6-5. Phil Hooray.
LATE WOODBINE RESULTS.
Third—Henry Q. 5-1. Rebounder 4-1 place. Cloten.
Fourth—Kelpie 13-5. Glimmer 4-5 pl. Main Chance.

ROSE BREAKS RECORD.
At the Canadian Championship meet to-day Ralph Rose broke his own world's record with the 16-pound shot by a throw of 49 feet 7.1-4 inches.

TOD SLOAN WILL WED ACTRESS IF HE HAS TO ELOPE

Julia Sanderson's Mother Skiffish at Post, but He'll "Beat Barrier."

JOCKEY TIRES OF DELAY

Blushingly Talks of Love Affairs as He Comes Out of Scented Bath.

Seeking information at first hand relative to those rose-colored rumors that began to float through Broadway last night like a flock of blooming falcon love-birds, a reporter for The Evening World to-day interviewed Mr. James Tod Sloan in his apartment, No. 142 West Forty-fourth street. Mr. Sloan, who by his intimate friends has sometimes been called "Tod," had just emerged from his bath. It was a broad, white, tiled room, and the reporter could believe what his nose was telling him. Mr. Sloan was still enmeshed in one of the grandest bath-tubs that has come in years from Paris on the tops that goes around the waist. He was smoking a black cigar much resembling a B-flat clarinet, only slightly larger.

Asked Him Point-Blank.
The reporter started right in by telling Mr. Sloan that, as they say in the Wabash Valley, Dame Rumor had it that he would to-morrow at the Little Church Around the Corner lead to the altar Julia Sanderson, heiress of "The Delrymades," and by many regarded as the prettiest woman on the American stage.

"Well, the wedding is going to come off pretty soon," admitted Mr. Sloan, smiling, and he pointed to the check and card he was holding in his hand. "But you know, old man, I wouldn't care to be specific as to the exact time. Julia's mother likes me or at least I think she does—but Julia is to put off the marriage for awhile. But for me, I'm all for beating the barrier promptly. (Mr. Sloan once rode horses for a living; hence the use of the vernacular.)

"I've been waiting for a good while for this thing and I'm getting sort of impatient. But what I say, Mrs. Sanderson is sort of reluctant and we may be forced to slip away from town and get married on the quiet."

"Will you be married within the next week?" persisted the reporter.
"We might be married to-day," muttered Mr. Sloan, under the arched roof of his bath, and he almost blushed his head off.

Miss Sanderson's mother, a handsome elderly lady, was found in the room which she shares with her daughter, at No. 60 West Thirty-fourth street, hard by Ninth.

Mother Is Willing.
"Tod is a mighty nice little fellow," said Mrs. Sanderson, "and I have no objections to the marriage. Certainly, I would prefer that they put the wedding off for a little while, but I am not standing in their way, understand. They can be married whenever they get ready. They have thought it all over for themselves, and I am perfectly agreeable."

HIGHLANDERS TAKE FIRST OF DOUBLE-HEADER

Get Twelve Hits in Five Innings Off Mullins and Win, 8 to 2.

CHESBRO IN FINE FORM.

Allows Tigers Only Three Hits, Two of Them in the Last Round.

First Game.
DETROIT.
0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 — 2
HIGHLANDERS.
1 1 2 0 3 1 0 0 — 8
DETROIT.
R H PO A E
Jones, lf..... 0 0 0 0 0
Schaefer, 3b..... 0 0 2 3 0
Crawford, cf..... 1 2 0 0 0
Cobb, rf..... 0 0 0 0 0
Rossmann, 1b..... 0 0 1 1 0
Downs, 2b..... 0 0 1 2 0
Payne, c..... 0 0 6 2 0
O'Leary, as..... 0 0 2 1 0
Mullin, p..... 0 0 5 0 0
Jones, b, p..... 0 0 1 0 0
*Killeen..... 1 1 0 0 0
*Lowe..... 1 1 0 0 0
Totals..... 2 3 24 14 0
*Batted for B. Jones in the ninth.
*Batted for Crawford in the ninth.

HIGHLANDERS.
R H PO A E
Hoffman, cf..... 0 0 3 0 0
Conroy, lf..... 2 3 0 0 1
Elberfeld, 3b..... 2 1 0 0 0
Chase, 1b..... 1 2 10 0 0
Morriarty, 3b..... 0 0 2 0 4
Laporte, rf..... 2 0 0 0 0
Bell, rf..... 0 0 1 0 1
Ball, 2b..... 0 1 2 3 0
Williams, 2b..... 0 0 0 0 0
Thomas, c..... 1 2 0 0 0
Chesbro, p..... 0 2 0 5 0
Totals..... 8 14 27 17 2

Base hits—Off Jones, 1 in four innings; off Mullins, 12 in five innings. First inning, 1st: Jones, 1; 2nd: Mullins, 1; 3rd: Jones, 1; 4th: Mullins, 1; 5th: Jones, 1; 6th: Mullins, 1; 7th: Jones, 1; 8th: Mullins, 1; 9th: Jones, 1. Total, 8 to 2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, Sept. 21.—The Hilltoppers to-day stopped the victorious march of Hughie Jennings's Tigers, taking the first game of a double-header by 8 to 2. Mullin, who has hitherto been a hard proposition for the Highlanders, was batted hard, being touched up for twelve hits in five innings, including four three-baggers. B. Jones relieved Mullin in the sixth inning and was promptly hit by Conroy and Thomas for three bases each, Chesbro pitched in the form, allowing only three hits, two of which were in the ninth.

First Inning.
Jones was thrown out by Chesbro. Schaefer struck out. Crawford walked, but was forced out on Cobb's grounder. Elberfeld to Ball. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.
Morriarty threw out both Rossmann and Downs and Payne were retired on a grounder to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.
O'Leary flied to Hoffman. Mullin was thrown out by Elberfeld, and Jones Crawford singled to right, and Mullin beat out a hit to the infield. Both advanced on Chase's sacrifice. Mullin to Elberfeld. Schaefer hit a short single and touched third, forcing out Morriarty, but Elberfeld scored on Morriarty. Thomas struck out. TWO RUNS.

KEENE'S CELT AND BALLOT WIN STAKES AT GRAVESEND

EVENING WORLD RACING CHART SIXTH DAY AT GRAVESEND.

AUTUMN MEETING.
SEPT. 21. CLEAR TRACK HEAVY.

944 FIRST RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 2:30; off 2:51. Start good. Won easily.

945 SECOND RACE—The Hitchcock Steeplechase Handicap; for four-year-olds and up; 2 1/2 miles. Post time, 3:15; off 3:30. Start good. Won easily.

946 THIRD RACE—The Junior Champion; for two-year-olds; $5,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 3:45; off 4:01. Start fair. Won easily.

947 FOURTH RACE—The First Special; for three-year-olds and upward; $5,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 4:30; off 4:46. Start good. Won easily.

948 FIFTH RACE—Selling; the Gentlemen's Cup; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 5:15; off 5:31. Start fair. Won easily.

949 SIXTH RACE—Fillies; two-year-olds; $1,000 added; five furlongs. Post time, 5:50; off 6:06. Start good. Won easily.

950 SEVENTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 6:30; off 6:46. Start good. Won easily.

951 EIGHTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 7:10; off 7:26. Start good. Won easily.

952 NINTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 7:50; off 8:06. Start good. Won easily.

953 TENTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 8:30; off 8:46. Start good. Won easily.

954 ELEVENTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 9:10; off 9:26. Start good. Won easily.

955 TWELFTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 9:50; off 10:06. Start good. Won easily.

956 THIRTEENTH RACE—Selling; for three-year-olds and upward; $1,000 added; about six furlongs. Post time, 10:30; off 10:46. Start good. Won easily.

Two Thoroughbreds Add the Junior Champion and the First Special to the Millionaire's Long List of Victories.

20,000 RACE-GOERS SEE
A GREAT FINISH IN RACE

Gus Straus Takes the Hitchcock Steeplechase Handicap from Dr. Keith—Tom McGrath, at 1 to 2, Beats Fleming in the First Race.

(Special to The Evening World.)
GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, Sept. 21.—"Follow Keene and get the money." The early season prediction still holds good. To-day the Keene colors were carried to the front in both the Junior Champion and the $5,000 First Special.

The two-year-old Celt outclassed his field in winning the Junior, and Ballot, the worthy successor of Peter Pan, got the Special after a hard drive by Nicol, with Knapp on Electioneer and Dugan on Salvadore whipping desperately to catch him. It was an exciting finish, which drew the 20,000 spectators at the track to their feet, shouting themselves hoarse as the three horses fought every inch of way in the last sixteenth. They finished as they had been placed at the start—Ballot, Electioneer and Salvadore.

THREE-DAY SPREE
FOR ALL HOMBURG,
SIAM'S KING PAYS

Wine and Beer Flow Free During Birthday Celebration of Royal Ruler.

HOMBURG, Germany, Sept. 21.—King Chulalongkorn of Siam, who was born Sept. 21, 1853, today invited all Homburg to join him in celebrating his birthday. Champagne and red and white wines of other descriptions were served at the Kurhaus (Casino) without any limit, it being arranged by the chief minister of the visiting king that each person who paid a trifling fee should become temporarily a member of the Kurhaus and be entitled to three bottles of wine, one each of champagne and white and red wine, while in the grounds of the Kurhaus three pavilions were erected, where free beer was distributed to all comers.

The king decreed that this celebration should continue at his expense for three days. He is also distributing large sums of money to the poor, through the local benevolent societies and the city authorities, and to the city give a banquet to six hundred persons.

Among the invited guests, who come from all parts of Germany, are merchants and others from whom the king has bought jewels, works of art, furniture and so on.

The people of Homburg are joining in the spirit of the king's hospitality. His portrait is in every shop window, the houses are decorated with the Siamese flag, a white elephant on a red ground, and an immense quantity of fireworks will be burned to-night at the expense of the municipality of Homburg, whose citizens will also illuminate their residences in honor of the occasion.

The daily outlay of King Chulalongkorn in formal times, while travelling, is about $3,000 for the hotel bill of himself and his suite. It is presumed that the celebration of his birthday will cost $250,000, as the managers of the Kurhaus have been hastily gathering in wine by the carloads from neighboring cities.

It is estimated that the King of Siam has already spent $1,500,000 in Germany alone. A new medicinal spring which recently burst forth in Kur Park was to-day formally christened Chulalongkorn Spring by the Burgomaster of Homburg, surrounded by the municipal officers, and in the presence of the King of Siam and his suite.

NEW YORKERS
WIN PRIZES AT CANADIAN MEET

Melvin Sheppard, of the Irish Americans, Captures 800-Yard Event.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—The Canadian Championships were held this afternoon on the grounds of the Montreal A. A. A. at Westmount under the most favorable conditions. The weather was clear and warm, and the entries for the different events large. Summaries: 100-Yard Run (First Heat)—W. D. Matton, Boston A. A. A.; first, C. J. Sells, N. Y. A. C.; second, time, 19.2-5.5. Second Heat—H. J. Huff, Chicago A. A. A.; first, J. O'Connell, N. Y. A. C.; second, time, 19.1-5.5.

800-Yards—Melvin Sheppard, Irish-American A. C. New York; first; Andrew Giarne, Olympian Club, California; second; J. Bromberg, Jr., I. A. A. C. New York; third; time, 1m. 38.2-5.5. 1,000-Yards (Final)—W. D. Eaton, Boston A. A. A.; first; H. J. Huff, Chicago, second; time, 1m. 15.4-5.5. 1,200-Yards—Dead heat between P. L. Takas, M. A. A. A. and H. J. Huff, Chicago A. A. A.; first, 1m. 56.5-5.5; second, 1m. 56.5-5.5; third, 1m. 56.5-5.5.

NEW JERSEY: Partly cloudy with showers to-night or Sunday and cooler to-night and Sunday in west and north portions; light to fresh west winds.

EASTERN NEW YORK: Showers to-night or Sunday; cooler; light west winds.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Forecast for New York City and vicinity: Showers and slightly cooler to-night; Sunday partly cloudy; light to fresh westerly winds.

FORMER JUDGE
BOOKSTAVER IS DEAD IN NEWPORT

New York Jurist Passes Away in His Cottage at Rhode Island Resort.

Former Supreme Court Justice Henry W. Bookstaver, of this city, died today in his cottage at Newport, R. I., where he had long been a cottager. His death recalls the famous Sheriff Flack divorce conspiracy, in which Judge Bookstaver, as presiding judge in the Court of Common Pleas, granted Mrs. Mary E. Flack a divorce she did not want.

Justice Bookstaver was born in Orange County, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar in 1861. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1885 was elected to the bench.

He was identified with scientific societies and belonged to the Manhattan, Casino, New York and Zola Pal clubs and the Nicholas and Huguenot societies. In 1884, by the terms of the Constitution, he became a Justice of the Supreme Court.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Prof. Allen Wheeler, instructor at the fashionable private school in Newport.

The Flack divorce case was the great scandal of the bar in 1881. A Tammany man, he occupied the offices of Sheriff, attorney, counsel to the Police Board and to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. He figured in the trial of Boss Tweed and in 1